

PUBLISHED DAILY AND TRI-WEEKLY BY EDGAR SNOWDEN:

PRIDAY EVEN'G., OCTOBER 24, 1879

Congress adjourned on the first day of July. It had been in session, with but a short interval, since the October preceding. Its members, after so long an at since from their homes, were, of course, accious to return, and availed among all those who were hurrying to the depots to secure seate in the care for trips to their homes, one man odd did to be seen, and that away from the blockade of New York, and hurther in the spring of 1862, which I copy from played the Marssities. The Maine Sepator has a wonderfol hold upon the popular heart. Wherever he goes his appearance is the righal for a burst of each aciasm. There is something about him that wine both respect and affection." The inforeces is too plain to require portrayal.

Since it has been clearly demonstrated to all sacrifice, not only the democratic party, but the welfare of the whole country, in order that the Tammany ring may retain possession of the northern and western States are northern begin its contest for supremacy in science, are the lucrative offices in New York city, and that | and western men, high in rank-Esarts, Conk be will be assisted to his efforts by thousands of other men werse even than himself, that such efforts will result in the defeat of Mr. Rebission for Governor, and that the election of Mr. Cornell will so dishearten the democracy that their fight egainst a solid North in the next presidential election will be weak and dispirited; since all this is plain it becomes the bounden duty of Mr. Robinson, that is if he is the patriotic, sensible and staunch democrat his friends represent him to be, to withdraw from the contest and allow Mr. Potter, upon whem the entire democracy of the State can and will unite, to take his place at the head of the ticket. Let him not only recollect, but follow, the biblical example of the mother who at hatred, it never will be; but gaining force wis willing to relinquish her child to another will burst out in a grand confligration some Barron Hope, of Norfolk, was introduced, and woman rather than have it cut in two, and it will be well with him.

Notwithstanding the foolish, ignorant, vain, selfish and indiscreet hands into which the democratic party has fallen, we still have a lingering hope that the people of the country are not given over entirely to radicalism, and that, though the present outlook be unfavorable, the nominee of the next national demooratio convention will be elected President. On that tesonat, and on no other, would we willingly consent to a continuance of the foreign missions of the Government, for, by means of such missions, places of retirement, out of the country. can be found for many of the so called leaders of the democracy, by following whom the party has been led into its present strait.

As the registration books will be opened tomorrow, and will remain open only one day, it will be well for those who have changed their places of residence or come of age since the last registration to have their names properly recorded.

THE FRIENDS YEARLY MAETING held its last session for the year yesterday. The committee appointed for the purpose of considering the changing of the time of the yearly meeting was continued notil the next yearly meeting. A committee, consisting of Friends Francis T. King, Dr. J. Cary Thomas, Franois White and others, was appointed to attend the General Conference on Education, to be held in Indiana early in 1880. The report of the Finances Committee gave a favorable showing. The Friends appointed to answer the epistles from other yearly meetings presented their several answers, which were read by the clark, and, meeting with general satisfaction, were adopted. In relation to the epistle from Ohio, in regard to the formation of a General Board of Foreign Missions, the following were appointed a committee to confer with other committees on the subject : Francis T. Pusiness continues fairly active, and the approach of cold weather will doubtless still forther stimulate trade in the dry goods and clothing departments. In the grain market there has been a continued activity, but prices have within the past few days fallen, and operations have to some extent been checked. It is hardly probable that the decline will continue, the break being attributable to the too great speculative and consequent hasty advance, and another reaction is not improbable at an early day. Money matters bereabouts are quiet, and there is no pressing demand. The banks are accommedating their customers without any trouble, and upon good collaterals there is no difficulty in raising money. In Baltimore, according to the papers of that city, the demand for money is quite good, and the market steady, and though ers are more indifferent, and unusually stiff as to their rates. The quotations are 5.6 per cent both for loans and discounts, the former figure being sllowed to first class borrowers only. In New York the market for money has bardened considerably, and rates have advanced. On call the rate is 6.7 per cent on the best collateral, and 7 per cent and a commission on other kinds. Time loans are 5 to 7 per cent, which is also the quotation for prime mercantile paper. The demand for money in the Philadelphia market is more active, but the supply is ample and rates are as before, at 4:45 per cent for call loans and 5a6 for discount. Government bonds are slightly casier, the 61 being & lower. State bonds are active and stronger; $8,90 Virginia consols sold yesterday at 632 to 64, against 632 to 021 on Wednesday; and $37,000 of the 10-40s sold at 521,522 regular way, and 53, buyer 80.
